sire to enter and who do not desire to pay the customary 50 cents are various. The most popular seems to be climbing to the top of the fence and dropping over.

Several small boys about a month ago excavated a passageway under the fence at an obscure point and crawled under. This entrance was discovered to the police by a quarrel between the proprietors of the underground route. The excavators found it so easy to enter that they told their comrades of it and allowed them to use the hole upon payment of 5 cents. The plan prospered for one morning, but the division of the gate receipts caused a quarrel, which resulted in the police being

The first woman to be arrested on charge of attempting to beat the barrier was Miss Mary Barber. She was arrested yesterday, after having made a leap from the top of the high steel fence on the eastern side of the Fair Grounds. She sus tained no injuries in jumping, although the fence is eight feet high, her skirts, forming a parachute which landed her lightly on the World's Fair side of the fence.

TO SING AT THE EXPOSITION.

Republican Glee Club at Columbus,

The Republican Glee Club of Columbus. O., which will give a concert this afternoon at 4 o'clock in Festival Hall, was organized in 1872 and has since been in continuous existence. It has long been one of the most celebrated organizations of its kind in the country and has had a career kind in the country and has had a career of uninterrupted prosperity. It has always been recognized as one of the great forces for the Republican cause in Ohlo and has frequently been called upon to sing in the campaigns of other States as well. It has a present membership of 116 men.

At the inauguration of every Republican President, beginning with Grant, it has participated by special invitation in various exercises at Washington, in each case a special reception has been given it at the White House. In 1897 and 1961 it gave official concerts at the Pension building in conjunction with the United States Marine Band.

Macklyn Arbuckle, whose work in "The County Chairman" made such a pronounced hit in New York, will appear at the Texas building this afternoon in the the Texas building this afternoon in the role of a lightning sketch artist. The drawings will be sold for the benefit of the Texas World's Fair Commission.

Mr. Arbuckle is said to possess considerable talent as an artist, and some of his friends have gone so far as to suggest that he should devote his entire time to that work. The former Texan is satisfied with drawing crowds to the productions in which he appears and will not forsake it to picture people and things for a livelihood.

Beginning at 4 o'clock and for an hour

Beginning at 4 o'clock, and for an hour,
Mr. Arbuckle will show how well and how fast he can make charcoal sketches, Miss Cornelia Wood of Ennis, Tex., will play several cornet solos, and Miss Ruby Brake of Dallas will sing.

In the Indian Territory building are two paintings of Thomas Jefferson and five egenerations of his descendants, the last generations of his descendants, the last born at Monticello. The likeness of Jefferson is from a portrait taken at Monticello, Va., in 1895. The others in the painting are: Martha Jefferson Handolph, his daughter; Thomas Jefferson Randolph, his grandson; Mrs. R. G. H. Keam, his greatgranddaughter; Mrs. John S. Morris, his great-great-granddaughter, and Patti and Adaline Morris, his great-great-granddaughters, the last three residing at Monticello, I. T. The paintings are the work of Mrs. Narcissa Owen, 72 years old, who lives at Monticello.

These who will take part will be glothed as were the people of that time. The descendants of the great men who took part in the original transfer will step into the shoes of their forefathers for the time. The exercises will begin with a reception to Governor Blanchard. The famous proclamation of Governor Claybourne will be read from the Louisiana building, which is a replica of the Cablido, where the transfer took place, and the flag of France will be lowered and that of America raised, as was done in 1803. The Governments of France, Spain and United States have agreed to participate in the celebration.

The day will end with a Colonial ball, which is in charge of Colonel James S. Zacharle of the Louisiana Commission. The affair will be a duplicate of the ball given in New Orleans, when that city celebrated the centennial of the transfer. Special music will be arranged to suit the customs and dances of the Napoleonic period.

Some evening this week an entertainment will be given at the Pennsylvania building, the programme to be furnished by "ibome talent." Robert Abbott, one of the four Philadelphia policemen in charge of the Liberty Bell, possesses a fine barytone voice, while P. J. Garrity, another of the squad, is a former Irish comedian and has not yet lost his power to amuse. Others connected with the Pennsylvania building will take part.

Theodora Sturkow, the Russian planist, gave a piano recital at the Texas Pavil-ion yesterday afternoon. Included in the programme were the Karma waltzes, Miss Sturkow's own compositions.

Master Victor Chabulak of Helena, a 3-year-old violinist, was the attraction at the regular weekly recital at the Arkan-sas building yesterday morning. Miss Hazel Yates, planist, and Miss Jordan, soprano, also took part.

The Ohio Commission has issued several hundred invitations to the informal reception to the Republican Glee Club of Columbus at the State pavilien at 8 o'clock this evening. The club, which will be heard at Pestival Hall this afternoon, will state reveal selections.

M. F. Daviz, president of the Missouri Commission, departed yesterday afternoon for Jefferson City to attend the Demo-cratic State Convention. Mrs. Belle Hall Small has arrived from Sedalla to resume her duties as Missouri's hostess.

Their grounds have been impassable be Their grounds have been impassable because of the mud and their tepees have suffered from the heavy rains. While their homes are built on one of the highest points at the Fair, the grounds lack the necessary drainage facilities to make them comfortable after a heavy rain storm. It will be a part of Doctor Simms's duties as the "white father" to hear these complaints and adjust them as they come up from time to time.

"The Indians are much the same as children," said Doctor McGee. "They need someone to sort of lean on; to tell their troubles to; to sympathize with and help them.

troubles to; to sympathize with and help them.

"The greatest difficulty we have to contend against is homesickness. The Indians must be constantly amused. If they are not away from their homes and families, they get homesick. Homesickness with an Indian oftentimes means death. Whenever we find any set of Indians becoming homesick after some little time at the Fair, we take them for a little trip down the Pike. This proves a diversion for them and they forget their troubles for some little time."

Doctor Simms will start upon his new duties to-day. After a careful inspection of the grounds with Doctor McGee yesterday Doctor Simms is ready to offer suggestions for little improvements that will give pleasure and happiness to the restless members of the red race while at the World's Fair.

MEXICAN PIANIST TO GIVE RECITAL TO-MORROW.

Senor Pedro Luis Ogazon of the City of Mexico will give a piano recital in the Recital Hall at the World's Fair to-morrow afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Senor Oga zon has studied entirely in the City of Mexico, but plays programmes from Beethoven, Chopin and Schumann, usually including one or two characteristic num-bers by the best of the Mexican com-posers. He has given several recitals in New York with success, among others one at Sherry's before the New York Chapter of the Daughters of the Revolu-tion, when he was introduced by Mrs. McLean as "a future rival of Paderew-sk!"

Bus for National Body at the World's Fair Makes Its Appearance on Grounds.

The National Commissioners are happy They have their own carriage. It is not a "chuffing" red devil, nor even a green dragon, nor is it a showy landau or toria. It is only a modest inclosed bus. but it is enough and 'twill do. After long weeks of waiting, during which the Commissioners chafed uneasily under the mortifying lack of their own official equipage, the longed-for vehicle has come, and there is joy in the household of the Commission as a result. To say that the Commissioners are delighted at this final seal on their imporlighted at this final seal on their importance and dignity is putting it mildly. It is a most edifying sight to see the entire body of those Commissioners now in the city riding about the grounds in their new conveyance likt a happy family out for a holidae.

Their conveyance has no gildings, no emblazoned monograms nor coats of arms, not even a crest, neither does silver harness jingle on the satin coats of the horses, and the driver is not clothed in gaudy livery, with a cockade in his hat. But all these deficiencies amount to naught with the democratic Commissioners, nor do they dim the joy of their possession of the cherished carriage. It was but a few weeks ago that the National Commission in conclave decided that they needed a carriage of their own, and forthwith it was ordered. Time was when the Exposition provided a carryal for the use of the Commission, but the era of economy put a stop to this.

REDUCED RATES FOR EMPLOYERS. World's Fair to Take Advantage of Bill Posters' Offer of Space.

The Executive Committee of the World's Fair yesterday decided to put on coupon books containing fifteen tickets of admis-sion to the World's Fair for 55. The tickets will be good caring August. The committee's action must be approved by the National Commission, It was also decided to order 2000 tickets It was also decided to order 2000 tickets of admission at 50 cents each for the use of employers desiring to give them to their employes. These tickets will be on sale at the Luclede building offices to-day. This action was taken because of the demand from employers in St. Louis for some plan by which they could arrange for a complimentary trip for their employes to the Fair without handing them the 50-cent coin which at present is the only thing other than a russ which will gain admittance to the grounds for visitors.

gain admittance to the grounds for visu-ors.

The matter of posters for distribution in all the cities of the United States and Canada, to awail the Exposition of the offer of a million miles of free billhoard space, also was considered. Reports were submitted showing that the Pike and oth-er concessionaires, as well as the State and foreign Commissioners, would take advantage of the proffer. Many designs for poster advertising were considered, and the work of having them printed will be rushed. Thirty thousand sheets have aiready been ordered, and the other con-tracts will be closed-immediately. Neither the matter of 25-cent admissions at night nor the request of the foreign Commissioners for the abolition of the commission exacted on the sale of dupli-cates of exhibits was discussed, it was said.

Some time ago Willard A. Smith, Chief of the Department of Transportation Exhibits, offered Mr. Benbow the use of the aerodrome, which he has decided to accept, as the gas plant at Delmar Garden can make a quality of gas that will lift only sixty pounds to the 1.000 cubic feet, while that at the aerodrome will make by drozen capable of raising seventy-two. The airship is unlike any other ever built. It requires neither the dropping of ballast to raise it nor the loss of gas to lower it. Moreover, it can turn squarely around, as if it were on a pivot, which not even a bird can do. All this is accomplished by regulating the side propellers, the blades of which can be made to open for any part of a revolution or to work in opposition to each other, like the cars of a boat, one set opening at top, while those on the other side open at the bottom. Mr. Benbow does not say what speed he will make; but, as the motor can now drive the bindes at seventy-five revolutions a minute, against forty-five at the last trial, he expects to make good speed and, what is more important, to have perfect control of the machine.

of the Success of Plans. General Victor L. Baughman, president of the Maryland Commission, departed

General victor L. Isaugaman, pressent of the Maryland Commission, departed yesterday for Maryland, after a sojourn at the Exposition of more than a week. Before departing, General Baughman gave assurance that the celebration of Maryland Day, Sentember 12, would be one of the most elaborate State days that will be celebrated at the Exposition.

Governor Warfield, representatives of every branch of the State government, delegations of the several commercial organizations of the State and representatives of the Maryland societies of the different States will be present to make the day a memorable one. Sentember 12 is the anniversary of the battle of North Point, one of the last battles of the war of 1812.

Albert Jones, representative of the Maryland Commission, has received several thousand pamphiets issued by the Immigration Bureau of Maryland. This book sets forth the agricultural advantages of the State and invites homeseekers in a manner that suggests the enterprise usually associated with "boom" Western States.
